Hospital to home

Many long-term ventilated adults and children now have a genuine alternative to a long-term stay in Intensive Care. Based on almost two decades of practical experience in Germany by Patrik Hutzal, it was revealed that patients cared for by specialist intensive care nurses in their homes experienced a better quality of life and improved patient outcomes. This can also provide hospitals with an opportunity to free up more of their high-demand ICU beds for immediate needs.

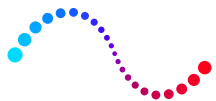

Date: Friday 10th October

Time: 7:00 – 8:15 am

Where: Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre

Speaker: Patrik Hutzal, Critical Care Nurse, RN, Crit Care Cert, MBA
Director of Intensive Care At Home Pty Ltd.
